VALUABLE Property at private sale, situated on the Sheboygan or Mosholine Meadows, and on the Sheboygan River, containing about 13,000 acres of land, a large portion of which is heavily timbered with best quality of pine. The improvements are mills propery are, in the village of DUNCAN, on the main land South Channel or pass, is a large steam Mill, of modern construction, with Sliding Machine, Shingle and Lath Machines, and capable of manufacturing fifty thousand feet of lumber in 24 hours, also, Hotel, Land Office, Store, and sundry dwelling houses and Smith shop The Sheboygan Steam Mill, on and near the mouth of Sheboygan River The Sheboygan Water Mill, one mile from the mouth with dwelling houses, barns, &c At Dunoan a Pier is erected, extending out to a sufficient depth of water to accommodate any vessel navigating the Lakes. This is admitted by navigators by reason of the bay and Pier, to be the best Lake Harbor between Detroit and Chicago—it is a desirable Wooding and Coaling Point, being on the direct route for Propellers and sailing vessels This property is desirable as a point at which a town must soon grow up, as the country back of it is fast filling up, for many miles, with settlers

The Sheboygan Water Mill has the entire power of Sheboygan River, a never failing stream of great volume, which never freezes, the dam being at the falls of the river, is easily kept in repair. This is the most valuable water privilege in the State of Michigan, north of Grand Rapids

To a company or individuals, desirous of entering into the lumber trade, this property offers rare inducements, with a certainty of greatly increased value in a very few years and will be sold much below original cost, or present value, to close a concern

PROCLAMATION.

A year of general peace and prosperity is drawing to a close During the period our young State has steadily advanced in her rapid career towards wealth and greatness Her resources have received an impulse development New avenues of trade and inter communication have been opened and a fresh impetus given to all the pursuits of industry Labor in all legitimate sphere of enterprise has been bountifully rewarded A generous harvest has filled the land with plenty while health and happiness have prevailed within our borders In full enjoyment of these temporal blessings, we should not be unmindful of the Gracious giver of all good gifts the manifold exhibitions of His favor and guardian care, men us on every hand, and, that we may express our gratitude for these bounties, I hereby appoint Thursday the 20th day of November next, to be observed as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer throughout the State

In testimony where of, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State to [L S] Wisconsin to be affixed Dated at Madison Wisconsin, 20th day of October 1856

By the Governor COLES BASHFORD
Jno W Hunt, Asst Secretary of State

Postmasters and Newspapers.

We notice that some of the more violent of the Democratic presses are exercising themselves just now in reference to the "duty" of Postmasters to aid in the circulation of Democratic newspapers An article from the Albany Atlas on the subject, is going the rounds, and was two or three days since copied and warmly endorsed by the News of this city The following paragraph from it furnishes an idea of its tone

The Democratic party has certainly a right to expect that those holding office under it will not engage in the circulation of Republican papers and documents Postmasters can readily and with little labor, largely increase the aggregate circulation of Democratic newspapers in this country, and we think that under the teaching of the late campaign, they will feel disposed to attend to this political duty We speak not in behalf of our paper merely, but for the whole Democratic press, and more especially for the Democratic cause.

We repeat it is our duty to begin the next campaign now, by the circulation of newspapers, by maintaining and perfecting our organization; and by such other efforts as tend to secure Democratic ascendancy.

With all due deference to "Democratic" authority, we have always supposed that the great majority of postmasterships throughout the country have been, of late years, bestowed upon men who have rendered service to their party, so that they might make a little money out of the commissions directly, where they are large enough to amount to anything, or incidentally, by bringing business to country stores in which the office is located. Inasmuch as the people are at liberty to take whatever paper they please, and in most cases prefer Republican papers, it is asking rather too much of postmasters to expect that they will sacrifice the small revenue which they get from these commissions by doing anything to discourage the circulation of newspapers such as the people want, and all such appeals to them, we think, will be in vain

Postmasters, in their oath of office make no promise to aid in the circulation of newspapers of any shade of politics, but they are expected, and are paid, to do certain duties, among which are the conducting of the office so as to secure the greatest revenue to the Department, and in proportion they subserve them own interests also

Milwaukee & Beloit Railroad.

The Elkhorn Independent has an able and eloquent article, urging the people of that town and vicinity to come speedily up to the subscription called for by the Directors of the Milwaukee & Beloit R R Co We copy a brief portion of the article referred to

Twenty thousand dollars have been subscribed in this village, and it is expected to raise the balance from property holders in the vicinity, in south east Sugar Creek, north east Delavan, north west Geneva, and south-west La Fayette Every man who owns a quarter of a section of land within four miles of this village, can afford to take a thousand dollars stock of this Road — Besides the worth of the stock which each will find of being as good as that of any Road in the State, its construction will add the entire cost of subscription to the value of their property

The Road is now under contract from Milwaukee to East Troy, and work has already commenced vigorously at several points along the line, east of Fox River In a few days work will be commenced at East Troy It is the design to commence at this place immediately or soon, if the people here do what is legitimately expected of them

The Independent says not a word too much in the importance—the actual money value, of this Road to the farmers and merchants of Walworth county, on its completion It will add greatly and immediately, to the value of their property

And while we urge upon our friends in the country to come up liberally to the aid of this enterprise, we cannot but think that the people of this city are somewhat lacking in appreciating its importance to them It needs but a glance at a map of Wisconsin and Illinois, one would think, to convince them that the Milwaukee and Beloit R R, once traversing the rich county of Walworth,—and penetrating some of the finest agricultural counties of Illinois—reaching the business of numerous thriving interior towns of both States,—and striking the Mississippi river through roads already built, at a point which makes the distance from river to Lake by this route the shortest possible—must at the same time be an exceedingly profitable road to its stockholders, and pour into Milwaukee an overwhelming store of wealth It is the part of wisdom among business men to seek out avenues and make highways for business, and this enterprise has not yet received the attention which it deserves. We must push ahead, or be run over in these bustling days.

"Honor to whom Honor is due"—We are indebted in a great measure for the glorious victory we have achieved in this section, for Freedom and Republican principles, to the honest and intelligent Norwegians and Welchmen in this Assembly district, and not a few of the intelligent Germans voted with us—La Crosse Republican

This was the case all over the State The Norwegians, the Welch, the English, the Scotch and a fair proportion of the Protestant German and Irish, voted the Republican ticket at the late election. On the other hand, the Catholic Irish and Germans voted en masse for the Sham Democracy They were led astray by false lights

Columbus and Madison—The Madison Journal objects to our statement that "Columbus is the starting point of the North Western Land Grant Road," and points us to the language of the law to wit

"And for the purpose of estimating and selecting the lands granted by Congress the city of Madison is hereby designated as the point of commencement of said road," &c

Very true. Nevertheless, in fact, Columbus is also the starting point of the road

Going to make him look the Mark—The New York Herald of Saturday has a despatch from Richmond, Virginia, asserting that the Filibuster and Slavery propagandists of the South intend to bring Mr Buchanan to the bull ring and pledge him to make Kansas a Slave State, before the Southern Electoral Colleges will vote for him The report "needs confirmation

Senator Sumner—The Boston Atlas contradicts the report that Senator Sumner will decline a re-election to the U S Senate and adds that his health is improving.

NEW AND THINGS IN GOTHAM.

New York, Nov 1 185

Messrs Editors—Since my last, the great event of the year has transpired, we have met the foe and they are all but ours. The smoke of the conflict has floated away and the condition of the two armies is plainly discernible In our ranks we find an unbroken and almost victorious host our armor bright, our courage unabated, God and the Right on our unsoiled banner, and eagerly waiting for the next trumpet call, which shall summon us to another onset and be the clarion prelude to a glorious victory Who is afraid?

The inquiries of the 4th of November, summoned by our Governments and City authorities, were beyond the calculations of the past and will mark the limit of annals of rank and disgraceful one In the 6th Ward from the beginning, a well dressed man was not seen, without he carried an open Ward or Buchanan ticket in the hand I know of eighty three Germans true who were prevented from voting the Republican ticket many were beaten in pulses and the same scene of riot and despotism occurred in various other wards. At the close of the day, I came from one of the upper Wards, with a large squad of polemen, who informed me that Mayor Wood had removed them from the lower portions of the city where they were needed, to the most distant outskirts, where they were not— An order was made out for the arrest of Mr Wood, but from some accident did not prove effective Judge Capron told the community that he intended to sift these transactions to the roof and bring high and low to justice, and you'll be possession of us in view of the justice that was promised us But the man has become faint hearted and pigeon livered, tells us he was too rash in his promises, and falls back on a charter which confides too much power in our municipal chief, and too little in him Such are the broken staffs on which we lean, will they ever be better will they not know a more rotten character? A man was stabbed in the latter part of October and Mr Wood offers a reward for the assailant, but thou bad man, where are they rewards for the crimes and bloodshed of Nov 4th, with which thine own hands are so red?

It was salve to our wounds when we received the returns from the honest country which makes our own glorious State. We felt as you did, when the eleventh hour told you your Congressman was safe, notwithstanding the devils (I trust defeated Milwaukeeans will not think me personal) were leagued against you.

One of the pleasantest features of election day to me, was an hour or two I passed socially with Col Fremont. He was alone, and it was my first look at the "Pathfinder" Without, the war was raging, within, the calmness of the man in that quiet, well-ordered parlor, would have drawn all attention from my host as an interested party in the great drama being played "Yes sir was quietly reading a book, as if such things as Presidents did not exist Mr Fremont's countenance wears almost an expression of feminine softness, therein differing entirely from the prevailing portraits of him, and agreeably disappointing me, and had I not known his history, should hardly have chosen him for the Rocky Mountain hero and hardy pioneer he has been

To day we are in possession of the California letter of Mr Buchanan, advocating for that market a Pacific Railroad—the reverse was the bright side of the picture, and held up by the South to the opponents of the measures. So we see the character of the two faced man, and the machinations of his party—using fraud, slander and deception, knowing that by such base means alone they could gain their ends Since the election we have settled down to the details of a quiet life, glad the excitement is over and peace restored The armies with banners and torches have disappeared— loud hurrahs and noisy party songs no longer disturb the slumbers of the sleepy citizens, and Gotham has settled down to its old fashioned way of living The Republicans, in their club rooms, still keep the "pot a boiling," and are unlimited to be jolly to the last proving, so far as spirits go, they are the only live party alive all

One of the most comical incidents growing out of Mr. Fillmore's defeat, is acknowledged to be the bet paid by Major Ben Perley Poore, of Boston He and his barrel of apples and 6 miles wheelbarrow and triumphal entry into the city, will live in history, and be more renowned than the other "diversions of Polk" so read of Some style it was much account of a Poore joke, others say the poor man was benighted on the way, and came into town a little sooner, etc.

Our fine fall weather still lingers with us, as if loth to go The streets are crowded and brilliant with beauty in consequence, for the days that will intervene before sharp winter comes, will be few and uncertain, so the golden moments are eagerly seized by all who enjoy the delights of all outward things

The receipts of the late fair at the "Palace," amounted to nearly $28,000, the expenses to about $23,000. One item in connection with it is of interest to your locality. The machinery department was unusually full and attractive, most of the States being represented, and Wisconsin conspicuous, among the rest, for the sewing machine of Pinney, Young & Co, of your city, which was a general favorite, and always surrounded, when in operation, by a crowd of admirers Last but not least, the large gold medal of the Institute was awarded to the proprietors of the machine, who will probably receive hereafter for the invention many more medals of the same material, with Uncle Sam' stamp thereon, all of which must be very pleasant to contemplate.

Our tax payers have been recently most agreeably enlightened as to where some of their money goes, it having been a mystery before, and the committee of Aldermen on repairs and supplies, have politely requested the Commissioner and Superintendent of these departments, the notorious Messrs Selah and Irving, to resign, or have their doings brought before the Grand Jury — The way these Gents have been feathering their nests, is as follows To evade the law forbidding the giving out of work exceeding $2 0 so as by contract, they analyse a job into all its parts Thus a piece of tinning work, which a tinner would engage to do for $20, is given to a butcher, or a baker, or a candle stick maker, anybody but a tinner, with instructions that the bill presented must not exceed $250, and these unhung scamps have been rioting in official fat for nobody knows how long

The exploring ship Resolute, completely repaired by our government, goes to sea to-day under command of Lieut Hartstene, as a present to "John Bull," whose usual good sense will permit him to recognize the delicacy of the compliment as coming from one of the family

The new Collins steamship Adriatic will probably make her trial trip next week, but there is a doubt of her being sent to sea before spring. This line plays 2d fiddle to the "Cunarders" now, unfortunately for our reputation, the withdrawal of government patronage inducing the owners to reduce the daily consumption of coal, and consequently speed, 1 lays now is the ordinary time of passage

The lecture season will be quite brilliant this year The New England society have already commenced with Hon G P Marsh to be followed by R. H Dana, Osgood, Abbott, Stone, &c.

The usual anniversary and dinner will occur on the 22d of December, at the Astor House

N P Willis excuses himself from lecturing on the ground of his voice being reduced to a whisper by bodily infirmity

W G. Simms the southern novelist, has been invited to deliver several lectures on southern topics, which are promised soon

Dramatic reading are now being done by Miss Laura Stevens, a very attractive young lady belonging to a good family. She recently made her debut with considerable success at Wallacks, in the part of "Hero, in 'Much Ado," &

"Fleming" the actor has just started for California to fulfil an engagement, and report has been in circulation that he was studying for the ministry in this city Too good news to be true I fear

"Thalberg, the king of pianists, has given several concerts to crowded saloons, and opinion is unanimous that he excels all his predecessors on all that constitutes true ability as piano forte playing. He combines the most power of execution with a truly refined and quiet style, and beneath his fingers the instrument grows melodious and overwhelms his audience with admiration

LaGrange's husband has taken the Academy for a brief season, thus far with excellent success The opening night was noisy and excited, owing to the directors having taken the baton from Max Maretzek's hand That renowned individual made one of the audience, and recommenced his efforts to be elected him triumphantly in to the conductor seat which he has maintained since, the directors wisely concluding to never look the matter

The opening of Laura Keene's new theatre next week will be the theatrical event of the season It is said to be replete with every luxury and comfort, surpassing in beauty any place of the kind in the country The fair manageress is a wonderful creature, and the public will undoubt dly sustain her in her new enterprise

The new play of "Self" at "Burton's," by Miss Bateman, is well acted, but rather a crude affair the not lacking merit

Yours, VIOLA

The vote for Electors does not run straight in consequence of errors in printing tickets, having fallen into the same errors against which you cautioned through the Sentinel Our county, as you are aware was divided by the Legislature, but all voted together this fall Still we are good for a good Republican majority in each, after the organization of the new county Our county has polled about double the vote this fall that it did last, showing a very fair increase of population Respectfully yours,

Death of Mr. Juneau.

The special meeting of the Common Council was convened last evening, to express the public sense of the loss sustained by our city and State in the death of the old pioneer, Solomon Juneau, and to make arrangements for paying the last tribute of respect to his memory The Board having been called to order, Mayor Cross addressed them as follows

Gentlemen of the Common Council.

I have deemed it my duty to call you together this evening, for the purpose of formally announcing to you the death of Solomon Juneau, and recommending that you take the necessary steps to publicly honor and respect his memory

It is meet and proper, when a man possessing the character and qualities of the deceased has passed away, that suitable and appropriate expressions of public sentiment should be made, as a tribute to his memory and as an appreciation of the high estimation and distinction in which he has long been held by the citizens of Milwaukee As the Pioneer Settler of Wisconsin, as the first Chief Magistrate of its commerce, as a metropolis, and as an honest, upright and generous hearted man, to his family he is justly this homage and respect due from the city and citizens of Milwaukee

It was my good fortune to have been intimately acquainted with the deceased, both in private and in public life And I most cheerfully bear test mony to the honesty and integrity of the man

Envy, calumny, reproach have never even denied what or suspicion against his integrity or his honesty Within the circles in which he moved, and a reputation unbroken he has lived a life of wonderful and unselfish interest He has seen "old things pass away and all things become new" He has lived to see his favorite Milwaukee spring from her infancy to a full grown and maturity of active business life He has seen the rest ness of the forest, with a lingering look as it gradually faded from the beautiful banks of his Lake and Milwaukee to be transferred beyond the borders of civilization, to seek a more congenial clime and if possible a sweeter home He has seen the Bluffs back change give way to the proud steamers that come sweeping into view from our inland seas He has seen the rude wigwam of the savage give way to the palatial mansion, and where once barbarism reigned supreme, the homes, and the various Trades and Professions in our city, that they unite with us in paying the last tribute of respect to the remains of our deceased friend and fellow citizen, and that we suggest to our merchants and business that they close their stores and places of business during the funeral ceremonies

Resolved, That a Committee of five be appointed, with instructions to procure and erect, in consultation with the relatives of the deceased, a suitable monument over his remains

Resolved, That copies of the foregoing resolutions be furnished to the family of the deceased, and to the city press and that these proceedings be spread at length upon the Journal of the Council

This timely action of the Common Council will, we trust, meet with a prompt and universal response upon our fellow citizens. It is fit that Milwaukee should pay the most marked honors to the memory of her deceased patriarch Early notice will be given of the day and arrangements for the funeral

"The Code."

The inquiries of us about "the new code, by letter, personal application and otherwise, average about one hundred and fifty a day—so many at any rate, that we can't answer them In reply, once for all, we say that the Governor appointed J O Hopkins, Esq, a commissioner to supervise its publication He has performed this duty, so far as preparing it for the press is concerned, in a very creditable manner, and day before yesterday handed it over to the State printer to be printed

It will be printed in as reasonably short space of time as is possible, considering the fact that we have 8,000 volumes of General Laws, (500 pages) and 8,000 Local Laws, (1,250 pages), to get out before the 1st of January We cannot promise to have the code out before Dec 15th next, but it don't go into effect till April 1st, 1857

Six thousand copies are to be printed in pamphlet form, to be distributed as the General Laws are, by the Secretary of state—the balance to be sold by him at cost price—say 25 cents each.—Madison Argus.

A Real Black Republican The Boston Chronicle states that a colored man named Butler, belonging to New Bedford, came from California by the last steamer, on purpose to vote in the pending election Ascertaining that he could not vote in California, he has come 4,000 miles at a great sacrifice of time and money, to cast his vote for Fremont and Freedom

Sparta Queen City—We learn from the officers of the Keystone State that the Queen City became disabled in the late storm near Mackinac The greater part of her machinery is broken, and she will be in all likelihood laid up for the remainder of the season The loss on machinery alone will amount to $5,000.—Chicago Tribune.

The Loss of the Steamboat Superior.

The following statement of the loss of the Superior furnishes full particulars We append the names of persons known to be lost, but the number is at least 20 more were drowned, whose names are unknown The striking of the steamer at a point where no succors could reach the small ledge of broken rock was fatal to many, and all, at one or the other place of landing met a watery grave, but one soul would have been saved The Detroit Advertiser says:

Capt Jones has at last met a sailor's fate, after having been in command, successively of four vessels viz: the Ben Franklin, Alpena F K Collins and Superior He was a cool brave and gallant sailor, a genial and kindly man, and an accomplished and popular officer. He was a ship owner by profession and has become a resident of this city but late

The boat did not live twenty minutes after she struck The Captain's last words were "If any of you get ashore to land, tell the owners that I have lost a boat, but that I will stick to this on and go ashore like

Account of the First Mate.

The Steamer Superior left Sault Ste Marie on at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 7th of October—was 1 from the southward, weather favorable, passed Whitefish Point at 3 A M At 6 o'clock M wind canted around south west, and blew fresh at 8 P M off Grand Marais snow squalls and wind blowing fresh from the southwest

I thought Capt Jones would have to run back—he made no reply, we will wait and see how this at 8 o'clock, it still blowing heavy from the south west. At 10 o'clock, wind hauled around north east, blowing very heavy At 11 o'clock made Grand Island light—bearing about W S W dist and about 15 miles.

It was the intention of the Captain to run under the lee of Grand Island At 11½ o'clock we carried away our rudder—sea heavy and making fast she then fell off into the troughs of the sea, we then shipped our tiller and tried on after wheel, but found it would not work At 12 o'clock hot smoke pipes blew away The deck load came away, here I first missed my companion and friend Capts and he shifted to leeward, we then commenced thro ing over the deck load—with considerable difficulty got part of the cattle and hogs overboard through the gangway, and by cutting away the bulwarks—wind and sea increasing At 12½ began to make water fast, rigged the pumps, but could not free her—water gaining fast, engine I keep at work until at 1 o'clock the water put out the fire, sea boarding her—cleared away the anchors, hove the lead but found no sounding, growing—kept the lead going until we got seven fathoms water, made the land under our lee, close aboard—we then let go the small anchor—could not get the large anchor off her bow—the small anchor would not hold her, when she immediately struck forward, her stern swung round, and the next sea carried her broad side on the rocks After she struck I left the promenade deck, and went on the upper deck—stood there a few minutes, aft of the pilot house, then went down again on the promenade deck, where I saw Captain Jones for the last time then went through the cabin—no passengers in the cabin —went up on the hurricane deck again, aft of the wheels —there found a number of the passengers and crew. I then went down on the main deck, and stood in the gangway on the lee side—saw the large boat in the water, with a number of persons in it, cabin at this time cracking and pieces flying in every direction I then jump d overboard and made for the boat and got into it The 1st Engineer had hold of the gunwale of the boat—handed him an, and also the watchman, told the people in the boat to get out their oars and pull into the lake, which they attempted to do and struck me and shoved the bows in shore—the next sea upset her found that my feet touched the rocks, After a good deal of exertion succeeding the floating timbers, portions of the cabin furniture &c, succeeded in getting a foothold on the rocks The place that myself and others gained, was formed by rocks that had in fact in former times, forming a sort of harbor, behind which I succeeded in getting Found some of the already ashore, within about 15 minutes the remainder of the survivors came ashore making 18 in all It was very dark.

The place that we reached was not more than 20 feet in length, by 8 feet in width, at the top of perpendicular rocks of the height of from 10 to 20 feet the ascent to the top is by means of the rocks on the side of us, and the water dashing up to the height of 20 feet

With a good deal of exertion we managed to keep from freezing At daylight found that the boat was completely broken up with the exception of the sheets, which the shafts at the cross heads lifting them, they were distant from the rocks at motion feet about one third of this the outer of the water on which we saw eight or ten, viz —Henry Wight, Steward Jefferson Palmer, Sail on Keeper, Henry Baine, Sail Maker Wm Robinson, Clerk Jno Billinghurst, passenger of Cincinnati, Geo Davis deck hand, and we men supposed to be firemen names not known

The sea breaking over them at times they dropped off and by 9 o'clock it was all washed away Found the body of Capt Jones and also the bodies of Mrs Bennett and daughter, after daylight, theirs being the only bodies washed ashore All attempts to make a fire failed

One boat abandoned as last an attempt to escape from this place was fruitless We found the large boat right ashore, stove in We remained there from the morning of the 8th, till the evening of the 9th, when we succeeded in repairing the boat so as to get in the meantime on raw fish and hard tack, with now and then a biscuit — Took a position of the saved in the boat, and landed them on a sand beach about a mile and a half to the westward—then returned and got the remainder and started for Grand Island — The party headed on the beach started through the woods for Mr Powell's house on the main land, opposite the Island, distant about twelve miles

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

The Propeller J. W. Brooks Found.

Messrs Ole Sherin Crawford & Co received a despatch yesterday morning from that the propeller J W Brooks had found the hull of the Bee 18 miles south of the False Duck 168 feet water Her sails can be seen on the bottom and her boat lies at one of the small anchor was down To have rattled in such a singular position, for 150 days of loose and her pock, perhaps must have shifted to the stern Nothing could be seen or heard of the crew The Cleveland tried to tow her ashore, but could not The despatch said she was found five miles south of the "little Duck ing" but that cannot be, as what is known as such is those in the American shore, and five miles southward would be nearly on main island There can be little doubt but that one of the "False Ducks" to the westward of the "Ducks" is the island meant —Cleveland Herald.

Heavy Load—The steamer Sultana, Capt Ayers arrived from Buffalo on Tuesday, with about 800 tons of freight Capt A informs us that when his boat left Cleveland she had on over 350 tons, that she landed about 50 tons of freight at Washing on Harbor and other Bay ports Passengers who came up on the S inform us that the propeller Michigan a week ago last Sunday between Cleveland and Buffalo, bound down, that she had encountered a heavy storm on Lake Erie, and been compelled to throw overboard all her deck load, which mostly belonged to her owners in Newburg, Ohio who was on board

The Cleveland came in from Chicago on Monday, with a fine load of freight, and carried out a full load of shingles for Maple Leaf The C is one of the best and most reliable boats in the upper lake trade —Green Bay Advocate, Nov 14

Schooner Belmont Ashore—The H N Gates, which arrived in port Saturday, reports the schooner Auguste Belmont ashore ten miles east of North Manitou She sprung a leak at her stern post, and made water so rapidly that the crew run her ashore to prevent sinking After the vessel struck the clung they clung nearly two hours in the rigging before getting ashore The Belmont was about ten years old and owned by Wm Bill of Buffalo She had a cargo of wheat, shipped by Messrs Adams of this city, and was insured in the Buffalo Mutual at 85 cents per bushel —Chicago Tribune

POLICE COURT, NOVEMBER 19.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

James Lynch, drunk and disorderly, sent to jail 20 days, in default of $10.

Nell Glass, drunk and disorderly, fined $5.

Regarding Policemen.—John Kingert, Captain of the schooner Arrrow, and two of his crew, named Peter Bullon and James McKenzie, were examined on a charge of resisting Policeman Rice while in the execution of his duty, engaged with Policeman Wright, at the time, in arresting two of the defendants.

The evidence showed that the defendants had been into clothing store on East Water Street, kept by a woman named Nathans, and after pretending to purchase some clothing, commenced a regular row, striking the woman, choking the man in the store, and abusing the inmates.

They went off and returned again, and again made a row, breaking the windows, &c. The Police were sent for and Policemen Rice and Wright went down to arrest the defendants. The defendants resisted the officers, striking Policeman Wright three or four times, and attempting to strike Rice. The Policemen were warned by the crowd that one of the defendants, McKenzie, had had stones in his pocket, and would hurt them. After the Police had been struck several times, they drew their clubs and struck the defendants, Kligott and McKenzie, and took them, after a hard struggle, to the Watch House. It was shown that Dillon was engaged in the riot in the store, but did nothing towards resisting the officers. After a consultation between the Court, District Attorney, and the defendant's counsel, the charge of resisting officers was abandoned, and the defendants were fined, for disorderly conduct, as follows: Kligott and McKenzie each $10, and Dillon $5.

A clearer case than the above, of resisting officers, was never made out; one of the officers, Wright, was struck several times, and the other officer, Rice, struck at, and that, after the defendants were in custody, had been repeatedly notified that they were officers, and their staves exhibited. The counsel of the defendant's called it a sailor's frolic. But there is another warrant pending against the defendants for a riot; perhaps they will be prosecuted on that. The persons of the Police are getting of but little value, if this be the correct standard of meting out punishment for those who resist them and strike them.

A woman named Howles, who was committed for trial some weeks since, on a charge of stealing $40 from a man named Patrick Ryan, was admitted to bail in the sum of $300, and discharged from custody.

L. STANTON & CO.

City Auction Room.

I HAVE this day sold out all my Auction and Commission business to L. Stanton & Co., who will continue the business at the same stand, corner of East Water and Wisconsin streets. They are young men who come highly recommended and can be endorse with ample capital to carry on the Auction and Commission business to any extent. I would therefore recommend them, believing that they will conduct their business honorably. I have consented and made arrangements with them, so that whenever engaged, to sell any large stock of goods or furniture for them; I would therefore say to my friends that have any goods or furniture, if they prefer to make an arrangement with me for the selling of such, it can be done.

I still continue to keep my Land Office and Real Estate business at the same stand, and will now be able to pay more attention to it than I have heretofore done. In a short time, as soon as I can get a suitable room, I intend to open a Real Estate Auction Room.

CALEB WALL.

Milwaukee, Nov. 1st, 1856.

We have this day purchased from Caleb Wall all his Auction and Commission business, as we are in relation to Goods, Wares and Merchandise, and are fully prepared to do the business and make advances upon the same terms Mr. Wall did. We have also made arrangements with Mr. Wall to do the selling at Auction for us. Any references wanted, shall be given satisfactorily, and we solicit a liberal patronage of his old customers and the public generally.

The business will hereafter be conducted under the firm of L. Stanton & Co., Successors to Caleb Wall.

Breadstuffs Dull—Money Market Stringent.

POLITICAL NEWS UNIMPORTANT.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.

The steamer City of Washington arrived below this morning, with Liverpool dates to Nov. 5th.

Breadstuffs closed dull. Flour is quiet with a turn in favor of the buyer. Southern flour 32s6d@33s6d; Ohio 35s@37s. Wheat quiet and generally unchanged; red quoted at 8s@8s6d.—Corn quiet but steady, white 34s6d@35s, mixed 33s@33s6d, yellow 32s6d@33s. Beef very dull—Pork also neglected. Bacon steady. Lard quoted at 74 and tendency downward.

The London Times, in its city article says the funds are less buoyant, and the market presented a less favorable appearance.

Private letters from Paris, do not indicate any decided change in the financial matters although the condition of the Bank is improved. There is no return to confidence.

The political news unimportant. The Times correspondent says that the influence of Russia in the Danubian Principalities increases from day to day. The same writer says that England is quite as inclined for the proposed conference as Austria.

Constantinople advices state that the Ultimatum of England has been forwarded to the State of Persia. The Persian besieging army of Herat had taken possession of the environs of that city, and were fortifying them. A later despatch says that the Afghans have been defeated by the Persians, and 6,000 prisoners taken.

A Vienna despatch of the 20th inst., says that on Oct. 23d the Porte together with England and Austria had settled that the occupation of the Black Sea and Danubian provinces should be prolonged.

The British squadron at the Isle of Serpents had been reinforced.

FRENCH.—The Morning Herald's correspondent says that commercial accounts agree in admitting the greater abundance of money, and the certainty that no money crisis is to be feared, through inability to meet engagements. Discontent prevailed among the manufacturing districts of France, from apprehending commercial reforms. Corn was declining at various points, although at Toulon, Bordeaux and Marseilles, the average price was maintained.

The Neapolitan squadron had not sailed from Toulon. The Neapolitan Minister remained at Paris, and showed no disposition to leave.

SPAIN—A decree has been published in Spain establishing the law of 1841 regarding the press.

The steamer Anglo Saxon, from Quebec, arrived at Liverpool on the 5th of November.

Consols closed at 92½@93.
